CANADA'S HYDRO SYSTEMS OF WORLD H.E.P.C. CHAMPION

"We have an organization that is the wonder and envy of the Western World. Other countries want our experts to train their workers, in fact they want our whole set-up to be transferred to their countries."—L. A. Crowe, President, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electricity Association Conference at the Legion auditorium today.

"I do not make this statement boastfully he added. If you stop to realize, Ontario produces 45% of the gross national output and 95% of the industrial output, and electricity is the lifeblood of it all. You are in the midst of tremendous development. Ontario electrical commissions are right in the front spot in the parade of utility commissions of the country and in that spot will continue to succeed or fail. We have some really important things to do and we cannot do them in our own back yard. It is the duty of our developments, be continued. If you do, your own back yard will close its doors. Other countries have begun to realize what can be accomplished with the use of our resources. This points up to what a tremendous organization we have built up, and our work is not finished, said Mr. Strike.

Continuing Mr. Strike said the plan we have to boost our administration is to local sales. "Some are keeping a breast of all trends, and the commissions are taking tremendous interest. The only person you can tell you if you are doing your share is your voters, if you are honest about it. If you care then you must become a member of the union and pull your weight. This you cannot do unless you take advantage of the knowledge that exists all around you," he said. "Get behind your government and central offices. Enthusiasm and search for all the information you can get from both. In this way and in this way only, can you be the vanguard and keep the province strong economically," he said.

At the conclusion the Hydro Chairman was given a standing ovation by all the delegates present.

Fined $75, costs for assault

A Kinnmount man, Peter DeFino, who allegedly threw a liquor bottle at the face of a Kinnmount man, was fined $75 and $23 costs in Lindsay Police Court Thursday for causing bodily harm. DeFino was charged by Constable Watson, was dismissed of a charge of assault by threatening.

Thomas Bacon testified that the pair were making a nuisance of themselves outside his home. DeFino threatened them to "cut it out," the two men approached his door. He then one of the men reached to open the door and push. Bacon testified that he was in the liquor bottle which struck Mr. Bacon in the face. Mr. Bacon testified that Watson told him to come outside and he would clean Bacon's "clock."

Besieged Ontario Court Judge for NONG shares—court told

Saulty, Ont. (UPI)—The judge that said "I know none of you," residents in Saulty, big business, newspaper and radio and down to council, who got some of that was Jack Lightbody, the public sale of NONG stock at $50 in the spring of 1957.

The Crown contended that the friends of the Judge asked him to get the stock at $25.00 a share and he refused. It was alleged it went on public sale.

Farlier Crown evidence revealed that the Ontario Provincial Police of Vancouver had offered the Judge a year's option of $25.00 a share. The Judge refused at $23.00 a share and that 7,500 shares of the 10,000 were given to Landreville outright.

Special prosecutor Harvey McCulloch read a statement by Mr. Flack told the meeting, names are the best means of controlling the situation, indicating a higher accident frequency and higher costs. He said that the Industrial Safety Association is this year proposing 17,000 more incidents than last year. In the Ontario Municipal Electric Association manager and secretary-treasurer H.G. Flack while addressing delegates to the District Eastern Ontario Municipal Electric Association annual meeting said that a twenty-five percent increase had occurred in the total provincial costs.

Unhealthy Situation

The nation's transportation industry faces an unhealthy situation, charges a chief executive officer of the Canadian National Railways. "A state of affairs has evolved to the point that the country has more transportation means than it has business to justify it."

It is time the government faced up to the problem of present day transportation. Railways should be permitted to open and close rail routes at will, to change and alter fares as necessary, until they have created a satisfactory business free from government subsidy and control. "The railways are controlled to a ridiculous degree, and yet properly planned and organized the railway is the most efficient way of moving people and goods over long distances."

CNR official Merv Delagrave, vice-president of passenger sales and revenue, points out, trains running on a single track can carry as many as 60-600 persons an hour, as opposed to a capacity of 100 persons an hour on a single lane highway, and it takes 80 lanes of highway to carry the same number of passengers as a single train. "It can be carried on two tracks of rail."

"There is no doubt that the future of inter-city transportation is with the railway," he said. Around the world, studies in railway transportation have been made in France, Sweden, Japan and other countries.

Canada is subsidizing highway trans-

at the rate of almost $1 billion a year, and the country is fast becoming a concrete jungle with diesel-bitching monster trucks fouling the air. Governments should look again at the large investments made in the construction and maintenance of highways and the high level of taxes needed to maintain them and compare the figures with the cost of rail travel. Canada needs a re-evaluated transportation system and it is time the railways were free enough to expand in a businesslike way without interference. Scrap the old curbs on the railways, let them get into free competition with other carriers and free taxpayers of the railway subsidies that total about $100, 000,000 annually.

Not Just "Two Nations"

Canada is a mixture of many races and national backgrounds. The 1961 census showed 15,393,984 here in Canada, 84.4% of the population.

The census records ethnic group through the father. In 1961, Canada consisted of these backgrounds. Figures show are percentage figures:

British Isles 43.8; French 30.4; German 8.8; Ukrainian 5.4; Italian 4.0; Dutch 2.4; Scandinavian 2.1; Polish 1.8; Jewish 1.0; Russian 0.7; Other European 3.8; Chinese 0.4; Japanese 0.2; Other Asia 0.3; Indian or Eskimo 1.2; Other 1.3.

Lindsay boys sign in Toronto. The two youngest sons of P. R. Pickering, Lindsay, have enlisted in Toronto. Mr. Pickering told the Post on Monday. Richard enlisted with the Royal Canadian Engineers, Second Field Park Company, on September 5 and Norman enlisted on September 10 with the Irish Regiment. He is a present at Camp Borden. The former was a member of the boys' band here for years and was in the electrical business here with his father. Norman was employed here for several years with Zellers Limited before being transferred to Hamilton and Windsor.

Lloyd Beattie, another Lindsay boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beattie, enlisted with the Royal Canadian Engineers No. 1 Workshop and Park Company, Toronto. He was in the radio business here before signing up.

Lightning strikes cottage. The summer cottage of D. A. Sinclair, Lindsay, north, Lindsay, was badly damaged by lightning on Friday afternoon. The Post has been informed by residents of Pleasant Point. The cottage, which is on the lakeshore at Pleasant Point, was not burned but a fresh lightning bolt raised considerable havoc on the interior of the building.

Literature. Literature is the thought of thinking souls—Carlyle.

The Thursday Post with weekend supplement

Hydro officials from centres throughout Eastern Ontario met in Lindsay Thursday, for the annual bi-weekly convention of District 1 (Eastern) Ontario Municipal Electric Association. Checking the design of an insulator cover, are left to right: Jack Lightbody, Lindsay; James Rose, Whitby; V. R. Seguin, Chalk River; and S. F. Monahan, Chalk River. OMEA is a province-wide association of elected hydro commissioners, which works closely with Ontario Hydro in directing Ontario's public power enterprises.

End of Decline?

Generally speaking, sheepmen seem to be enjoying a rather better year than usual and there are some indications of better day ahead.

Wool prices are holding firm and with the added government deficiency payment, the net return on a well grown, well prepared clip is profitable.

Lamb prices have remained somewhat more equable throughout the summer months with a steadily growing demand for choice home grown lambs.

Wool prices are holding firm and with the added government deficiency payment, the net return on a well grown, well prepared clip is profitable. —Lamb prices have remained somewhat more equable throughout the summer months with a steadily growing demand for choice home grown lambs.

All of this would seem to portend that the decline in our sheep population has been arrested and that more use will be made of the thousands of acres so admirably suited to sheep production. More and more good wool needed importations for some of our breeds—there is a wider export for western wide faced range ewes with which to establish breeding units of 100 or more ewes on farms, both East and West—and the demand for purebred ram appears to be improved over recent years.

—Canadian Wool Grower.

Where did we come from?

One in a hundred Canadians is descended from the first inhabitants—the Indians and eskimos. The Indians are not a dying race. Their population has grown from 115,000 in 1941 to 185,000 in 1961. There are about 11-60 Eskimos.

The rest of us, or our ancestors, are New Canadians. Since the end of World War Two immigration has fluctuated. Many thousands came here from the British Isles. The Hungarian revolution and Suez crisis brought a new wave. Large numbers of Italians and Germans have added to the cosmopolitan life of our cities, already founded by Poles, Ukrainians and others.

Canada has not grown evenly. From 1945 to 1961, Quebec received 247,762 immigrants, while Ontario received 333,303. All other provinces combined took a total of 436,000.

Some Don't Stay. Immigration from Canada has substantially reduced the population gains by immigration. In the decade ending in 1961, we lost 399,542 people to the United States, of whom 284,103 were Canadian born. Those who left tended to be our better-situated citizens, often in search of better job opportunities and salaries. This "brain-drain," as some call it, has been one of Canada's perennial problems of growth and identity.

STUFFED LAMB CHOPS

Tender, juicy, Ontario-produced lamb is a treat any time, and in many ways. Because lamb cuts come from young animals, they are tender. Only skin, neck and breast cut require long cooking. Lamb should be served very hot on warmed plates, as the fat hardens quickly and becomes very unappealing.

Lamb chops can be pan-broiled, broiled in the oven or baked. This recipe from the Foods Department at Macdonald Institute, Guelph, features lamb chops and blue cheese, a tasty main dish for special occasions.

Blue Cheese Baked Lamb Chops

4 lamb chops, 1 cup bread, stuffing, seasoned to taste, 1/2 cup crumbled blue cheese. Wash chops and pat dry. Cut chops each into two to prevent curling when cooked. Lay stuffing on each chop. Sprinkle with blue cheese. Broil 10 minutes. Turn chops over for 5 to 10 minutes until golden brown. Serve on warmed plates. This recipe from the Foods Department at Macdonald Institute, Guelph, features lamb chops and blue cheese, a tasty main dish for special occasions.

HOW CAN I make a good choice when to buy a hammer or hatchet head on its handle?

Q. How can I make a good choice when to buy a hammer or hatchet head on its handle?

A. You can make a good choice when to buy a hammer or hatchet head on its handle. Before driving the screw into the top of the handle, look at the screw. It has a triangular shape. The teeth which are formed by the flattened heads serve to hold the wedge securely in place.

A LOVELIER YOU

By MARK SUE MILLER

OFF TO SLEEP YOU GO. Regular sound sleep is as vital to beauty as to health. After several nights of sleepless nights, think how you look as gray as you feel last night.

Just how much sleep do you need? For adults it's an individual matter. Some people thrive on six hours, while others need nine. Your bedtime hour is dictated by personal choice. You may prefer to retire early as a rule and rise early or else stay up late. The hours are immaterial, as long as you get the proper amount of sleep.

For a good night's rest the first requisite is comfortable sleeping arrangements, such as firm mattress and pillow, a frequent change of linen, and a fresh 100 per cent. air-ensured and curlings are recommended, if you are sensitive to light and noise.

A second necessity is a relaxed approach. You can't force sleep. It won't come unless you wind down and release your tensions. On the last night it is especially tranquilizing to devote a leisurely half-hour bedtime routine to take a tepid shower, tend the face and hair, slip into a fresh nightgown (thick cotton are coolest), and slip a glass of chilled fruit juice.

One is to bed, concentrate on relaxing your muscles—think of the bed as a warm blanket with the sun. Then massage your temples and forehead. As the body goes limp, the mind relaxes. And off to sleep you go.

Block Printing

Fendon Falls (PNS) — The "Canadian General Electric" one of Canada's important industries, was the topic of an interesting discussion by Mrs. Harry McCallum, who is the convener of the Agriculture and Canadian Industries at the September meeting of Women's Institute, held at the home of Mrs. Irene MacLennan. Mrs. McCallum was thanked by Mrs. Thomson for her interesting talk on the history of electricity.

The minutes of the June meeting were read by Mrs. Scott, after the opening exercises. As there will be no short course in military it was voted that as a second choice they would do block printing, and it is hoped that the course will start before Christmas. A committee was named to convene the White Crane Dinner to be held late in October.

An article was read by Mrs. Scott from the "Consumers Report" about several products

PATRICIA MCCORMACK

New York (UPI) — Is your child a "dwagon"ayer — or one who fractures the lingo another way?

When he goes to the ice cream store does he "ink" he wants a "hoda" instead of thinking he wants a soda?

At the candy counter, does he ask for "tandy"?

Two New Jersey speech therapists have a bookish therapy for youngsters such as these and others with long-winded problems over pronunciation of "R," "S," "T," "L," "G," and "P."

The two experts, both mothers, have had more than 10 years experience in speech therapy. They discovered that such mangling of words by young children usually stems from mis-hearing than from a speech impediment.

"The child hasn't learned to listen and hear, and repeat the sound correctly."

To help such children, Jan Stepan and Ann Siedler collaborated as authors of "listen-hear" books, a six-volume series recently published by Follett publishing company in Chicago.

Each book in the series deals with one specific sound that children find difficult to make. Characters in the stories include roaring dragons, giants, a naughty princess, a cock who couldn't crow, Alfie and a speech machine, and a little mermaid who has troubles with a sea monster.

The plot of each requires the main character to learn the correct sound before the raven is woven into a happy ending.

While writing the series, the authors returned to graduate school at New York University. Once the concept for the series was clear, the two worked in son another's kitchens working out the stories. Over innumerable cups of coffee they talked plots for weeks and months.

Delivery boys, repairmen, cleaning girls, the gas man and many neighborhood children had the stories tested on them as the two women discussed words with a lisp, corks with a frog in their throats, and "dwagons."

They spent more than two years developing the stories. For the acid test they reread them on their own children.

"If we didn't see their eyes light up, out it went," they said. Pupils in a Summit, N.J. school helped further when the stories got to the child-testing stage.

Mrs. Stepan has been a speech therapist at the language clinic at Massachusetts general Hospital in Boston and the National Hospital for Speech Disorders in New York.

Injured cyclist's condition reported as "still critical"

St. Michael's Hospital Authorities in Toronto report the condition of Lynn Saunders, 13, of 86 Wellington Street, is still critical. It is reported that the LCVI student, who was struck by an automobile while riding her bicycle on Kent Street on September 18, has not regained consciousness since the accident.

The girl was transferred to St. Michael's Hospital from RMH after an accident just west of the intersection of Kent and Albert Streets, on Kent Street, in which a car driven by Ronald Walker, 28, of 164 Colborne Street struck the girl who was allegedly making a left turn onto Albert Street.

Police Chief John Hunter said no charges have been laid.

NO PERRY MASON SO OFFERS TO DEFEND HIMSELF

"He's not Perry Mason; won't have him," barked Vernon McGuire of Lindsay Police Court Thurs. Referring to David Logan, who was offered free legal aid to the accused, he said "I don't want this lawyer. He is young and inexperienced." Pounding his fist on the table McGuire said "I'll defend myself."

Magistrate C. W. Guest had the accused removed from the courtroom and remanded for 30 days to the Ontario Hospital for observation. McGuire was appearing on a charge of indecent exposure and causing a disturbance which had been remanded Monday.

$50 or 7 days for impaired driver

Vernon Moore of 35 Legie Street was fined $50 and costs or 7 days after he was convicted in Lindsay Police Court Thursday of driving while his ability was impaired. Magistrate C. W. Guest said "A man doesn't have much consideration for his children when he goes out drinking and driving."

Mr. Moore, the father of six children ranging in age from six months to 15 years, claimed he was tricked into a breath-alizer test at the Lindsay OPP detachment office. He said police were going to show him how it worked, but after he blew up the two bags, they were placed in a container which was then sealed. When police testified that he staggered and his speech was slurred, he attributed these to a defective leg, that is a variation in the length of his legs and an impediment in his speech.

Corporal Arthur Armillage, the breathalizer operator from Peterborough detachment, said the readings on the machine were 1.5 parts per thousand and 1.4 parts per thousand, which would be an indication of five to six drinks. He said he thought the reading would be reasonably high for a man of the accused's weight.

Moore, who is a part-time farm-hand, admitted having a few drinks but said his weaving over the centre line of Highway 7, as observed by Lindsay OPP Constable Robert McGuire, was due to loose steering in his car and tiredness on his part.

Lands and Forest staff changes

Perry W. Swanson (above right) has been appointed to the position of Fish and Wildlife Supervisor for the Lindsay District. Mr. Swanson has been the Senior Conservation Officer for the Lindsay District the past four years.

Fenelon Falls man fined $150, costs for careless driving

A Fenelon Falls man, Charles Worrell, was fined $150 and costs in Lindsay Police Court after he pleaded guilty of careless driving. He was fined 30 days as an alternative to the fine.

Lindsay OPP Constable Robert McGuire said the charges arose from a recent accident on September 9th at 1:30 a.m. north of Cameron. He said the car went off the shoulder of the road, through a wire fence and smashed seven or eight posts causing $500 damage to the car and $75 damage to the fence.

Cars sideswipe $500 damage

An estimated $500 damage resulted from a two car accident on the Hollow Lake road half a mile east of Dorset Wednesday morning.

Minden Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police reported that cars owned and driven by George Burk and Blaise McDonnell both of Dorset sideswiped on a curve. Constable Health investigated.

Main Street Comments

In the year 1908 Lindsay Junior O.H.A. Midgets lost in the final at Stratford Midgets. In the following year, both these teams turned to the Intermediate category and again both teams met in the final but this time Lindsay overcame the tables and won the Ontario championship. The Manager of the team was Artie Perkins, who worked in the produce plant operated by Fife & Co. in the building where Rosedale Plastics are now located.

A room mate of Artie Perkins was Bill House, then a clerk in the hardware store of McLennan Brothers. In fact a year of two later House became the manager of the team and saw the team go along way up the ladder. This same Bill House took a stroll along Kent Street last Saturday night and saw the team go along way up the ladder.

House played baseball in Lindsay with the Widewakes, a formidable team in the town league, a team which included such baseball players as Bill Cinnamon, Harry Workman, George Miller and Norm McGill. Bill House was one of the originals in the Lindsay cross organization and coming from C. Catherine's he was not only a lover of the game, but a fairly good player. However increase did not catch this imagination of Lindsay people.

Bill House recalled the formation of the Lindsay Rotary some 63 years ago and later on when he moved he became president of the Rotary Club of that town. His chauffeur Lindsay was another former resident of Lindsay "Code" Newton now a prominent Trenton businessman. In his younger days Newton carried in the Skilcife store in Lindsay. He was also interested in sports.

For several years Bill House worked on a successful hardware business in Trenton and with him was associated his brother-in-law Rod Maundier. The business is now operated by a son of Mr. House and Bill is to be found in the store practically every day. In casual conversation he said, "Lindsay was always a fine town and I am pleased to learn the town is progressing. I can see the improvement on the main street and have noticed how the town has spread its wings in four directions".

Duck hunting generally better this season reports L & F Dept.

Cloud cover, light winds and rain equals kept Lindsay District ducks active last Saturday reports the Lands and Forests Department and provided one of the best shoots on record. In comparing the opening day of the 1964 season with that of 1963 the following general comments can be made: Durham County—fewer ducks per hunter but actually more ducks recorded; Northumberland County best opening day in over five years; Victoria County—slightly better than 1963; Peterborough County—better than 1963; Haliburton County—same as 1963.

Detailed information collected by Fish and Wildlife and Parks staff is given below.

Durham County—30 hunters at Darlington Provincial Park shot 51 ducks for 1.7 ducks per hunter.

Northumberland County—73 hunters at Presque Isle Provincial Park shot 202 ducks for 2.8 ducks per hunter. At least 21 hunters had their limit of 5 ducks. Only 10 hunters left empty handed.

Rice Lake—26 hunters shot 60 ducks for 2.3 ducks per hunter. At least one hunter obtained his full bag. Northumberland ducks were identified as 87 blue-winged teal, 80 green-winged teal, 27 mallards, 22 black ducks, 11 wood ducks, 8 halfpats (American widgeon), 7 pintails, 4 red heads, 5 lesser scaup ducks (bluebill), 3 greater scaup ducks, 3 oldsquaws and 3 shovellers.

Victoria County—106 hunters bagged 95 ducks for 0.9 birds per hunter. These ducks were identified as 23 green-winged teal, 15 black ducks, 15 blue-winged teal, 10 wood ducks, 4 greater scaup ducks, 2 lesser scaup ducks, 2 mergansers, 1 ring-necked duck and 1 unknown.

Peterborough County—87 hunters shot 129 ducks for 1.5 ducks per hunter. These were identified as 36 mallards, 30 black ducks, 28 wood ducks, 4 hooded mergansers, 3 lesser scaup ducks, and 1 blue-winged teal. Two charges were laid for hunting violations.

Haliburton County—49 hunters shot 56 ducks for 1.2 ducks per hunter. These birds were identified as 21 black ducks, 17 wood ducks, 8 mallards, 6 hooded mergansers, and 4 ring-necked ducks. Duck hunters cooperated by donating over 200 wing specimens to the Department for age and sex identifications which provides an index to breeding success.

Ruffed Grouse (Partridge)—September 25 was also the opening day of the ruffed grouse season. Thirteen men saw birds and bagged 4.7. Grouse are scarce. Hunting will probably improve with leaf fall.

Allen Cavana

Allen Cavana entered into rest at the home of his son-in-law, Kenneth Taylor, Little Britain, Ontario on Friday, September 25th, in his 90th year. Funeral services were conducted at the Mackay Funeral Home on Monday, September 28th with interment at Riverside Cemetery.

Allen Cavana was born in 1875 in a log shanty near the now deserted Howies School. He was the youngest member of a family of twelve that arrived in Canada in 1871, and while he was born in Canada, he inherited and retained many Irish superstitions. He inherited longevity too from his ancestors, all of whom outlived three score and ten, his father having lived for almost 90 years.

The passing of Allen Cavana marked the end of that immigrant family who were to build this Canada today. He was well and favorably known in the lumber industry, and following his marriage to Mabel Newman of Kinnoult, he devoted his skill to farming on the burnt River area. He retired to Lindsay several years ago, and with the passing of his wife he gave up his home and lived with members of his family throughout Ontario and Quebec.
